WORLD LEADER IN SPECTACULAR COOKING EQUIPMENT™

ARGENTINEAN PARILLA

The Beech Argentinean Parilla grill recreates the flavours and style of authentic South American cuisine. The spectacular ornate grill incorporates robust height adjustable char grills with rear log racks for added visual appeal. The Parilla grill has an Old World finish complete with wrought iron and black enamel where appropriate (fixtures can be changed on request).

The Parilla is available in a range of standard designs and sizes or can be custom made to suit your restaurant requirements. The grill can be fully gas fired, charcoal/wood fired or a combination of both. Optional features include eye catching gas display flames and smooth griddle sections on request.

Unique Features:

- Available as full gas, charcoal/wood fired or combination gas and charcoal/wood. All charcoal/wood grills will include refractory lined fire pits for superior thermal efficiency.
- Old World architectural grill support chains and effects.
- Char Grill sections will be hinged from one end and fully adjustable in height.
- Unit can be designed to suit any size required.
- All units are available with a rear gas display flame with the option of the flame built against a refractory wall incorporating cast iron or ceramic logs for a natural log fire effect.
- Reinforced steel frame with full insulation and lining for superior thermal efficiency and longevity.
