

More wing sauces in way less space.

Chicken wings are part of a profitable present and future. According to Technomic's MenuMonitor, 43% of the Top 500 restaurant chains offer wings. At fast casual restaurants, menu mentions of wings have grown 23% in the past 4 years.[†] Boneless wings alone grew 25% across all segments in the past 4 years.[†] The continued popularity of versatile, shareable wings is no surprise. They are so beloved that they even have their own national day. And it's never too early to start planning for National Chicken Wing Day – mark your calendar for July 29! When it comes to wings, it's truly all about the sauce.
